

Sachiko Shimamoto

Health promoter,
He Waka Tapu

How I would tackle poverty in New Zealand?

1. Put funding into the hands of those who need it through a process looking at long term, midterm and short term goals, identifying the areas where whānau need support.
2. Strengthening the communities that are already in place, e.g. supporting schools to better support the families of those who attend.
3. Make Healthy food affordable/available, educate and support families to make better choices.

